IT IS NONE OF HIS BUSINESS

This Is How Dr. Cofer Regards the Appeal of Merchants.

CLEANSING OF HAVANA NOT A CASE IN POINT

Federal Authorities May Intervene in Epidemics But Not In Town Cleansing—Quarantine Improvement Blocked.

Dr. L. E. Cofer, in charge of the United States Marine Hospital Service at this port, was seen by a Bulletin reporter this morning regarding the action of the Honolulu Merchants' Association in passing a resolution conveying an appeal for Federal assistance to secure the thorough sanitation of Honolulu. The Federal quarantine officer said:

"I really do not think that I have anything to say on the subject, simply because it is none of my business." Dr. Cofer was asked if there was a precedent in the cleansing of Havana for the requested intervention of the Federal authorities in Honolulu.

His reply was that Cuba was under military rule of the United States when Havana was cleansed. It was by military order and the action had no relation to the case of Honolulu, a part of the Territory of Hawaii as it is.

Dr. Cofer was next asked if there were any record of an epidemic in the States or Territories, where the Federal authorities interfered on behalf of the public health.

"The Federal authorities have intervened in the case of yellow fever epidemics, but never to the extent of cleaning up towns. Yes; they might have advised local authorities regarding the importance of sanitation."

Asked as to the intentions of the United States Government regarding the improvement of quarantine facilities at Honolulu, Dr. Cofer said they wanted to do a good deal of work here, but at present were held up by lawsuit over Quarantine Island. It was the intention, as reported in the Bulletin some time ago, to build a wharf connecting with the temporary quarantine hospital at Kalahehi.

MET A COUNTRYMEN.

Mr. F. W. Flanagan, agent of the C. P. R. in London, England, is on his way home from a trip around the world, says the Montreal Herald. Flanagan has been in the service of the C. P. R. since the beginning. He has been taking a rather extended holiday. He is now in Montreal, stopping at the Windsor Hotel.

Mr. Flanagan modestly disclaims all thought of being a noted traveler who is to be interviewed upon his experiences. He saw what other people saw. He visited famous places. He dropped into a barber's shop at Ceylon and found a map of the city of London hanging up, a map issued by the C. P. R. In the remotest parts of Australia he found men from the County Armagh, Ireland, about eight within a week—and in Honolulu the other day, he said to the young man in the store into which he had dropped: "Where do you come from?" and the bright young fellow answered, "I come from Ontario."

ESCAPED CONVICT.

The picture of Koko Kuaale, the trusty who recently escaped from the jail, is being posted at the police station with a full description on the back. It is taken in convict's clothes and in a prominent place are displayed the figures "145." While it is not believed that the native has left the island of Hawaii, still there is a possibility of his doing so in order to get as far away as possible from the place of his recent escape. No reward has yet been offered.

DO You want a good photograph?

After some thinking we decided that what is needed in Honolulu is a strictly up-to-date photographic studio, and we have gone ahead with the idea, fitting up the handsomest place in this city.

We present to the public the facilities, ability and experience necessary to do the highest grade of work.

MEETINGS ADJOURNED

The meeting of the Waimea Sugar Company, called at Castle & Cooke's this morning, adjourned for sixty days on the request of H. W. Schmidt, the largest stockholder. Mr. Schmidt desired the time to investigate the prospects of an increased water supply.

Kohala Sugar Company's annual meeting, called for the same place, was adjourned until March 15 to await the return of Charles M. Cooke from abroad.

SCOTCH ATHLETES.

A meeting of the Scottish Amateur Athletic Club was held last night but as there was not a quorum present no formal action was taken. Only informal discussions were held. A committee is at present at work canvassing among the members with a view to getting up a team for the coming field day and a delegate will be sent to represent the club at the coming meeting of the athletic clubs.

AT NINE-MILE TOWN

PLANTATION TOWN IS RAPIDLY PROGRESSING

Many Changes Among Lunas of Olua—Japanese Laborers Have New Scheme—General News Notes.

Nine Miles, Olua, Feb. 21.—Considerable excitement was caused last Sunday morning by a fire in the waste heap at the mill. The report was circulated that the mill on fire, yet there would not be much to burn should a blaze start there.

Jas. H. Thomas, an old-time luna is now with the plantation. His wife and children are on the way to join him.

First a large rock, then an iron wedge, and afterwards a pair of double-trees went down the main flume and into the mill lately. Some one in the mill placed the wedge where it was found, for it had been used around here, but at present were held up by lawsuit over Quarantine Island. It was the intention, as reported in the Bulletin some time ago, to build a wharf connecting with the temporary quarantine hospital at Kalahehi.

The last few weeks have seen many changes among the lunas. Many have left and others have taken their places. A. Cameron, the former luna, and A. Hunter, who had charge of weighing the cane, are among those who have gone away.

A Japanese rig went up the street the other day at a breakneck speed, with a helpless baby upon the seat. It looked like sure death to the child, but luckily it escaped injury.

During Chinese New Year the plantation Chinamen were caught gambling. They suspected one of their number as being the informer, so a hundred or more of his countrymen chased him down the street with the intention of doing him up. He was just saved in time by the police and a few outsiders.

Puna plantation is short of laborers. The Japanese at Olua have formed a society and intend to ask for $1.25 per day. If this is refused them, as it probably will be, they will strike and try to tie the plantation up.

The police have made four arrests within two or three weeks for selling liquor without a license. C. Ah Cho of the plantation boarding house was one of the number hauled up. He is an old offender.

Jas. O'Rourke, the horse shoer, is again at work after having been upon the shelf for some time with a sore hand.

Charles H. Jennings of Spreckelsville is now at the head of affairs in Olua store No. 1. George C. Stratemeyer has charge of the store's warehouse.

Mr. Paxton, who was in the employ of J. Emmelhut, is bookkeeping for Olua store No. 1. His wife and child will soon be up from Honolulu.

Peter McRae spent Wednesday in Hilo.

Vacant houses are at a premium around Nine Miles. In some of the places two and three men are sleeping in a room.

It has been several weeks since we have had any rain to speak of.

The mill has turned out 125 tons of sugar in twenty-four hours. Considering that the machinery is comparatively new, that is doing very well.

There are eight new buildings in course of construction at Nine Miles. Among them is a first-class chop-house and a 10-room lodging-house.

The Volcano road is in a very bad condition and there are no immediate prospects of things being bettered in the near future.

Electric lights will be placed on one side of the main flume and a telephone upon the other. This will help to avoid jams at night. A searchlight will also be placed upon the mill.

MEMOIR OF KIMBERLEY.

An order from the Navy Department was received by Commandant Merry yesterday, giving official notice of the death of Rear Admiral Louis Kimberley and directing that the flag be displayed at halfmast at the Honolulu Naval Station from sunrise to sunset on the day following the receipt of the order, together with the firing of thirteen minute guns at the hour of noon. The flag is flying as directed and the Rear Admiral's last salute reverberated through the town at high noon.

LAKE IS CHARGED WITH GROSS CHEAT

Case Came Up For Trial In Police Court To-Day.

SOME WARMTH SHOWN OVER THE GRAND ARMY

Chillingworth Said Defendant Was Not a Member of Organization—Miss Willard Testifies.

J. W. Lake, whose title to colonelcy in an Ohio regiment formed during the Spanish war is under discussion, and who was the head of the Kalihl picnic of last Saturday, also under much discussion, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging him with gross cheat by obtaining the sum of $35 from a Miss Willard who took up her residence in a house at the corner of Beretania and Punchbowl streets just recently. He appeared in the Police Court this forenoon and was represented by T. McCants Stewart who during the trial that followed, stated that he was not getting a cent for the work he was doing, his client being too poor to guarantee him a cent. The defendant pleaded not guilty to the charge and the case went to trial.

Miss Willard was the first witness placed on the stand by the prosecution. She stated that it was some time during the middle of January when the business transaction took place. It was through him that she had made arrangements for the rental of a cottage at the corner of Beretania and Punchbowl streets. She had five dollars at the time and she tendered the amount to Dr. McGrew who was present.

The doctor, however, refused the amount, saying that he would take full amount of the rental later on. The figure agreed on was $40, she to make all the repairs. The five dollars was handed over to Lake by way of a commission for finding a tenant. About a week or so later, she got the remaining $35 and took it to Lake, asking him if she had better take it to the doctor or leave it with him. The reply was that it did not make much difference. He would give her a receipt for the money and take the amount directly to the doctor. He thereupon ordered his carriage and she left.

Later on she called at Mr. Lake's office again and found that the money had not been given to Dr. McGrew. The defendant stated at the time that he had left it on his desk in his office on Emma street and upon returning from down town, found that it had disappeared together with $15 of his own. She was not sure if Dr. McGrew had said anything about Lake acting as his agent during the first transaction.

Dr. McGrew was the next witness. He denied giving Lake any authority to act for him as his agent in any way, shape or manner. He never saw Lake to his knowledge previous to the time when the three had met together to talk over the rental of the house. Lake had called at his house some time during the latter part of January and had stated to him that the money for the house had been lost. He then offered him $10. In the meantime he had heard things about Lake which did not impress him favorably and fearing that the acceptance of the $10 might compromise him and that he would not get the full amount of the rental, he refused to take the money. He called on Lake several times after that but only on one occasion did he find him at his office. He had previously told him that he would allow him a little time during which to make up the amount and hand it over. When he saw Lake at the office he stated that he had not yet been able to get the money together. He would probably be able to pay it the next week. He thereupon told Lake that he would probably not wait until the next week. He intended to have it sooner than that.

The defendant on being placed on the witness stand was asked by his attorney if he had a right to the title of colonel and if he had not mustered a regiment in Ohio during the Spanish war. There was a lot of objection to this but the question was finally allowed and Lake stated that such was a fact. He had received his appointment as colonel from Governor Bushnell and he had letters from Governor Bushnell and Senator Foraker. The witness told substantially the same story as the witnesses for the prosecution with the difference that Dr. McGrew in the first transaction of renting the house, had given him the authority to act as his agent. Miss Willard had suggested that she pay the rent to him and the doctor had said: "All right; all right."

He certainly had lost the money. He thought he had left it on his desk in the office. At all events, he went down town with the idea of taking the money to Dr. McGrew, thinking that the bag of coin was in his pocket. He went a man to the street to whom he owed two dollars. Feeling in his pocket for the amount, he found that he did not have it. On going back to the house he found that there was no money on the desk. There was a carpenter in the office when he left to go down town. He had tried to scrape together the $35, but had not been successful. He had offered ten and sixteen dollars to the doctor by way of part payment, but the amounts had been rejected.

During the examination of the witness, the question of the picnic at Kalihl was brought up and Lake said that he had lost money on the deal. He was also asked by Attorney Stewart if he was not a member of the G. A. R. The reply came in the affirmative.

On cross-examination, Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth asked the witness if he was not a member of the Salvation Army, whereupon there was much objection. Finally the prosecuting officer got around to the G. A. R. and Judge Wilcox stopped him for a moment. It was then that Mr. Chillingworth stated that he wished to test the veracity of the witness. He knew as a matter of fact that he was not a member of the G. A. R. He had tried to join here, but letters had been sent back to his old home and it had been found that he was not a member of the order, as he had given out neither had he recruited any kind of a regiment. It was on account of this information that he had been refused admission to the local branch.

Lake became very angry and stated that later on he would make the Deputy Sheriff prove what he had said. He was a member of the G. A. R. and he could prove it. He thereupon showed a copper button such as is worn by members of the order.

Argument of the case took up the remainder of the time until 12 noon, and at that time Judge Wilcox reserved his decision until the afternoon session. At that time, Judge Wilcox took up another case and at 2 o'clock, he had not yet given his decision.

At 2:15 o'clock J. W. Lake was found guilty of gross cheat and sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

HAWAIIAN HYMNS

The Hawaiian Board of Missions is at present getting up a new Hawaiian hymn book under the title "Leo Hoonani." The compilation of the hymns has been done by Theo. Richards. It includes, besides many new hymns, which have been found successful in other parts of the world, a large number of the hymns which are old and popular here. Among them are a number from Father Lyons' "Himene Hawaii" and "Hoku Ao Nani." Among the remainder are a number of hymns which have been translated into Hawaiian by Miss Ella H. Paris, under the nom de plume, "Hualalai." There are also a number of Dr. Hyde's works, while some of the hymns have been prepared for male choruses by Joseph Kaimala.

Proofs of the book already in readiness and as there are only very few corrections to be made, a couple of hundred books are already being printed in present shape and will soon appear.
